THIS PAMPHLET has been prepared by the Information Department of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense in the hope of helping the newly arrived war worker to find herself in Washington. Its purpose is to make available information on such essential matters as boarding and housing accommodations and recreation—information which, owing to the unusual conditions prevailing at the present time, the stranger finds it difficult to obtain.

For the assistance given in preparing this pamphlet grateful acknowledgement is made to the Government Recreation League, the Community Centers Committee, and the Young Woman's Christian Association.

MAP OF WASHINGTON.

GEOGRAPHICAL DIVISIONS.

Washington is divided into four districts: Northeast, Southeast, Southwest, and Northwest. These districts radiate from the Capitol as a center. The dividing lines are North Capitol Street, East Capitol, South Capitol, and a line drawn west through the Mall. The divisions are shown on the map by the heavy red lines intersecting at the Capitol.

STREETS.

Each district has its own series of streets, with letters and numbers beginning from the Capitol.

Numbered streets extend north and south.

Lettered streets extend east and west.

The avenues run northeast to southwest, and northwest to southeast. They are named for States.

HOUSE NUMBERS.

House numbers run (odd numbers on the right) in progression of 100 numbers to a block. Thus 510 Pennsylvania Avenue is on the left-hand side, between Fifth and Sixth Streets; and 510 Fourteenth Street is between E (the fifth letter) and F Streets.

HOUSING IN WASHINGTON.

President Wilson, under the Overman Act, issued an order on June 18, 1918, placing the housing problem in Washington wholly in the charge of the Secretary of Labor, who is administering this problem through the Bureau of Industrial Housing and Transportation. Ten million dollars of the recent housing appropriation will be used for the housing of Government workers in the District of Columbia. Work has already been begun on the residence halls, and it is expected that the first units will be ready for occupancy in December. These units will provide accommodations for approximately 1,800 women. With a few exceptions, the rooms will be arranged for the occupancy of but one person. The charges which will be made for accommodations can not definitely be stated at this time, but it is assured that they will be low, the plan not contemplating that the enterprise will be a source of profit to the Government.

Until the new buildings are completed the Room Registration Office, 1414 H Street, NW., which is conducted by the District of Columbia Council of Defense, will undertake to provide rooming and boarding accommodations for the new appointees. Those who arrive on late trains at present may find accommodations for the night by applying at the booth of the District Council of Defense which is prominently situated in the Union Station. The usual charge at the present time for rooming accommodations and board, that is, the two principal meals of the day, is $40 a month. In order to obtain this rate under present conditions it is usually necessary for two persons to occupy one room. Therefore, it would be well for new appointees to arrange for a roommate from among their friends, if practicable, in case they are appointed before the Government residence halls are ready for occupancy.

The Y. W. C. A., Fourteenth and G Streets, is also able to render valuable service in the matter of providing rooming and boarding accommodations. This organization maintains a list of carefully inspected rooms which are available for Government employees. At the travelers' aid desk at the Union Station is a Y. W. C. A. secretary, who will give all necessary assistance to strangers.

The Catholic Woman's War Relief Service of Washington, organized shortly after the United States entered the war, has opened for the housing of young women war workers a clubhouse at 2408 K Street NW., and another at 1205 K Street NW. Other Catholic institutions assisting the Government in the housing problem are: Catholic Women's Club, 1725 S Street NW.; St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, Edgewood, D. C.; Holy Cross Academy, 2935 Upton Street NW.; St. Catherine's, 101 North Carolina Avenue SE.; and Immaculata Seminary, Wisconsin Avenue NW. Any inquiry concerning housing facilities in any of the above named places should be addressed to: Rev. Lewis J. O'Hern, C. S. P., executive secretary, Catholic Army and Navy Chaplain Bureau. 930 14th Street NW., Washington, D. C.

The Y. W. H. A., corner New York Avenue and Eleventh Street, also offers entertainment and provides housing facilities. Further information may be had from Miss Dora Weiss, 3207 Mount Pleasant Street NW., telephone, Columbia 3978.

War workers are urged to arrive at Washington by an early train so that as much of the day as possible may be available for the purpose of finding accommodations. The telephone numbers given below are useless after office hours.

The Government departments which assist employees in finding suitable housing accommodations are:

Agriculture—Miss Olive C. Wadlin, Main 4650, Branch 2.

COMMUNITY CENTERS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

If there is a community center in your neighborhood, you are cordially invited to enter into activities there. If you will communicate with the community secretary when you first visit the center you will be introduced to the people of the neighborhood and enrolled for the various activities, such as dancing, swimming, singing, tennis, etc., if you desire.

Plans are under way to open one of the largest school buildings as a club house for the war workers. Should these plans be approved by the superintendent of schools and the board of education, the club will contain rooms for the large organizations working in cooperation with the community center department; also a laundry, kitchen, sewing room, library, and writing room, where for a small fee the war workers may have the advantage of the use of equipment and materials.

Dancing and other social activities will also be provided in this building.

For any information telephone Miss Cecil B. Norton, general secretary, Community Centers, Main 6000.

OUTDOOR CAMPS AND LODGES.

SUMMER SEASON, 1918.

CAMP COLUMBIA.

A self-governing and cooperative camp for girls in war service in Washington, conducted by the District of Columbia War Camp Community Service. The camp is used as a summer home until October 1. Members of the camp go out to camp after office hours in the evening and return to work in the morning.

Location.—Located on Conduit Road, at the District Line, 35 minutes' ride from the city; 5 cents car fare only.

Equipment.—Outdoor tent colony, with large mess hall, recreation hall with stage and piano, shower baths, trunk room, laundry tent, etc. Large garden provides fresh vegetables.

All tents are large size with floor bottoms, equipped with dressing shelf, iron cots with mattresses and pillows, chairs, and tables.

The camp is situated on high ground, well drained, and strictly supervised as to sanitation.

An emergency relief station is located on the grounds with physician in attendance. No extras for service or medicine.

Organization.—The girls of Camp Columbia have formed a semimilitary organization, with four military companies, commanded by lieutenants, sergeants, etc. Military drill and uniform are not required, but the majority of camp members are seeking simplicity in dress while in service in Washington, and are availing themselves of the opportunity to learn military tactics in order to prepare them for service abroad. All regulations and rules have been made by the girls themselves.

Routine.—

6.15 ——— Reveille.
6.20 ——— Setting-up exercises.
7.10 ——— Colors.
7.15 ——— Breakfast.
8 ——— Board cars for city.

7.30 to 8 ——— Military drill.
8 to 9 ——— Classes in French, first aid, reconstruction work, telegraphy.
9 to 10 ——— Recreation.
10 ——— Taps.

Activities.—Besides the above classes, tennis and volley ball are enjoyed. Many girls have canoes on the canal and many groups enjoy swimming in the river each day. Camp Columbia is also the starting point of many delightful hikes.

Outdoor plays, masques, are given during the summer, and the camp is continually receiving as honored guests distinguished lecturers, artists, and musicians.

Rates.—Thirty-five dollars per month, including two meals per day week days, and three meals on Sunday. No extra fees are charged for classes, doctors' services, or incidentals.
